TWO CAVALRYMEN THROWN. Mr. Harry Hubell Badly and Lieutenant

Accidents happened to two of the members of the Stuart Horse Guard yesterday afternoon, and in one case serious results are feared.

About half-most 5 are feared.

About half-past 5 o'clock Mr. Harry Hubell's horse ran away with him on Frankin street, as he was returning from the Exposition-Grounds. Two of his comrades followed and tried to overtake him, but at the corner of Sixth and Frankin the frightened animal stumbled and fell, throwing Mr. Hubell upon the side-walk. At this moment a carryall, in which was seated a Miss Kane and a colored driver, was passing. The prostrate animal rolled under the vehicle, overturning it and throwing both of the occupants into the street. Mr. Hubell was rendered insensible and at first it was thought that he was fatally mirt. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to the Retireat for the Sick, where it was found that his injuries were not serious. He received a bad scalo-wound and one of his fingers was painfully lacerated. Mrs. Kane was severely Toruised about the shoulder. She was taken into the residence of Mrs. Arnott, on Franklin just above Sixth, and subsequently sent to her home on west Broad street.

About an hour later, while Lioutenant E. J. Euker, son of Captain Charles L. Enker, and several others were racing, the Lieutenant's horse stumbled, throwing its rider and failing upon him. Lieutenant Eaker was picked up in an unconscious condition. Dr. Stover, who happened to be en the grounds, was summoned and rendered such surgical aid as could be given under the circumstances. The injured man, who resides in Henrico, was taken to Murphy's Hotel, and late last night had not recovered consciousness, He was bleeding from the ears, nose, and month, and it is teared that the base of the skull has been fractured.

At midnight inquiry was made at Murphy's regarding his condition, but nothing could be learned.

THE DEAD DALTONS.

EXCITED THOUSANDS LOOK UPON THEIR PALLID COUNTENANCES.

The Wounded But Still-Living Emmett Tells of the Raid-Talk of "Finishing" Him.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] KANSAS CITY, Mo., October 6.-A special to the Star from Coffeyville, Kan., says: The streets are packed to-day with crowds of excited people from all parts of this section, attracted by the fearful tragedy of yesterday. On every street corner, in every alley, stand groups of citizens eagerly discussing the attempted bankrobberies of yesterday, with their attendant tragic results.

At the city jal an awning has been improvised, under which he the four dead bandits in coffins provided by the county, with a guard to see that they are not diswith a guard to see that they are not disturbed. Since morning a procession of sightseers which seems to be never ending has viewed the dead outlaws. The desperadees, cold in death, their faces uncovered, seem to possess an attraction for the curious which is almost without parallel. Among the thousands who have viewed the bodies are many who have known the Daltons for years, and while their crimes deserve to place them beyond the pale of sympathy here, there are to be found people who can scarce repress a sigh of regret for the fate of the dead men.

THE WOUNDED EMMETT. THE WOUNDED EMMEIT.

The stairway leading to the room where Emmett Daiton lies is at all times surrounded by a crowd of men and women who do their utmost to persuade the guard to let their pass up to the presence of the wounded man. All sorts of reasons are advanced by these people for their requests, but, without exception, they are not complied with. Through the courtesy of Sheriff Callaban a Star reporter was allowed to enter the room. Emmett was of Sheriff Callaban a Star reporter was all lowed to enter the room. Emmett was weak from loss of blood and talked little. He said: "I met the boys Saturday near Tulsa, and in the course of their talk they asked me how much money I had. I re-plied $20. They said they had $900, and then told me of their plan to rob both the banks of Coffeyville in one day.

TO BEAT JESSE JAMES. "Bob said he wanted to lower Jesse James's record. I tried to persuade him not to try it, but did not succeed, as he had a grudge against the town and wanted had a grudge against the town and wanted revenge for what he had heard the people here were saying and trying to do about us. I had no money to leave the country on, and I did not think we could get away if we came. I finally consented, however. We knew the lay of the land thoroughly, and it was agreed that Bob and I should take the First National and the other three boys Congdon's bank. Bob thought he and I were better men than any six of the others, and knowing the First National to be the bardest to rob we selected that and assigned Congdon's to the others."

EXMETS REEDS TEARS.

EMMETI SHEDS TEARS.

Emmett stated that he was an own cousin of the Younger brothers, and until he knew that the other boys were dead he refused to say anything, but when their bodies were carried up to him for inspection he identified them as Bob and Gratton Dalton, Tom Evans, and Jack Moore. He shed tears as he gazed on his dead brothers. The names he gave to the two latter men are those by which they were known in this section, but they are not their real names. These are withheld from the public to day for good reasons, but their names are known. EMMETT SHEDS TEARS. their names are known

THE DEAD BANDITS BUBIED. THE DEAD BANDITS BUBBED.

The dead bandits were buried here this afternoon in the city cemetery in a lot owned by the Dalton family. The bodies were carried to the grave in transferwagons without a single mourner or sympathizing friend to assist in the last rites. The mother of the Daltons was telegraphed to yesterday, and this morning a message was received from Ben, the oldest of the family, that he would come on here. Ben has never been with the boys in the raids and is a farmer, living with his raids and is a farmer, living with his mother at present, near Kingfisher, Oka. EMMETT'S THREE WOUNDS.

EMMETT'S THREE WOUNDS.

Emmett is wounded in the right hip and right arm by Winebester bullets, and in his back are twelve buckshot, the last being the shot which knocked him off his horse. He had reached his horse and mounted with the bag of money from the First National Bank on his arm, when, seeing Bob fall, he turned back to assist him, and it was then that he received the fire that brought him down.

THE MONEY TAKEN. THE MONEY TAKEN.

The money secured from the First National amounted to $20,230, and that from Congdon's to $3,000. The amount turned over to the nanks somewhat exceeds this amount and serves to verify the state-ment made by Emmett that they had $000 when they came to town. It bery, and if this be true the entire gang was exterminated.

PROTEST AGAINST EMMETT'S REMOVAL. Sheriff Callahan wants to take Emmett Dalton to Independence, but there is a vigorous protest against it, and it will hardly be allowed, as our people are de-termined that he shall not be taken away from this town. BALDWIN AND BROWN.

The body of Lucius Baldwin was taken to Burlington, Kan., this morning by his mother, and that of Charles Brown will be sent to Harley, S. D., where his wife is.

CONNELLY AND CUBINE.

The funeral services over the bodies of Marshal Connelly and George Cubine were held this afternoon. The remains of Connelly will be buried at Independence, Kan. THE WOUNDED CITIZENS.

Cashier Avres's wound is not so serious as was at first supposed, and unless bloodpoisoning sets in he will soon recover.

Charles Gump was another catizen who was wounded by the gang, receiving a shot in his left wrist, which also drove his gun against his breast, lurting him badly. All the wounded men are getting along nicely.

TALK OF FINISHING EMMETT. Although there is some quiet talk of mishing Emmett Dalton, it has taken no lecided form and the result cannot be foretold.

Petitions to the Pacific Express Company and Missourt, Kansas and Texas Railroad Company are being circulated asking that they pay the large reward offered for the death of the Daltons to the families of the murdered citizens.

THE GANG'S RECORD. Emmett Dalton has made a sworn statement that Bob and Gratton were concerned in the California robbery, and that they also committed the Adair robbery several weeks since.

Runke's personal estate is supposed to be ample to cover all his losses, and the firm is wealthy and could not be seriously embarrassed by Runke's losses, but it seems probable that mortification and remorse actuated him. He was 46 years old and had been in the dry-goods trade from boyhood. He was a director of the Pennsylvania Mutual Company, of this city, and at the time of his death carried an insurance of $525,000 upon his life.

Jarbeau is as vivacious and fetching as Jarbeau is as vivacious and fetching as of yore and presents a programme that pleases those who like burlesque; but "Starlight" has been seen here so often that it no longer has the charmof novelty. A very pretty home wedding took place at Chestnut Hill last night at 9 o'clock, when Miss Jeannie Dunnavant Allen be-came the wife of Mr. Archibald Carlisle came the wife of Mr. Archibald Carlisle Haley. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. William E. Hatcher in the parlors of the bride's residence, which were tastefully decorated with palms and ferns. Suspended from the ceiling and directly above the couple was a large wedding-bell of Marechal-Neil roses. As the happy twain entered the room Miss Luta Maie Bell, of North Carolina, performed Mendels-sphn's wedding-march.

The bride, who is both graceful and handsome, was becomingly attired in a robe of marine blue, with Persian-band frimmings. She carried Niphetis buds and maiden-hair ferus.

CHICAGO. October 4.—The pork market got a great lit to-day. It was the leading market on the floor for activity and strength. The strong feeling was shown by a fump of about 10c, at the opening. This was followed by a further advance of 20c, early, and after some reaction, a later bulge put the January price up nearly 50c, over the close yesterday. At the same time January ribs were advanced 17½ per cent over last night's close, and lard 12½c. Grain lacked astimation, but had a firmer tone and closed at nearly the best prices of the day, the final flutres, compared with those of last night, showing a gain of 5½c, for wheat and ½c, for corn. Outs were stationary and featureless. Cash quotations: Floor quiet unchanged; No. 3 spring and red wheat, 73½a 74c; No. 2 corn, 43½c, No. 2 cots, 31½c. Port, $11.35a$11.40. Lard, $5.50. Preliminary Challenge Therefor from the Earl of Dunraven.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.) New York, October 6.-The Earl of Dunraven, it is announced, will be the next challenger for the American cup. The fol-lowing notice is posted on the bulletin board of the New York Yachting Club:

New York, October 6.—A preliminary challenge for the American cup has been received from the Earl of Dunraven. The following cable has been sent to the Earl of Durraven, London: "Letter received. Will be considered by the club. Special meeting on the 18th. [Signed] Oddie, secretary." During the afternoon the market felt the ef-ect of realing sales and reacted by to 1 per-ent, but the decline brought in a fresh batch of uying orders shortly before the close, and a par-al recovery ensued. Chicago Gas and General lectric were noticeably strong, leaving of Electric were noticeably strong, leaving off within isalac, of the highest. Various reports were circulated in research to the alleged New England deal, but nothing of an official nature developed. secretary."
What will be done at this meeting is not known at present, but it is safe to say that a committee will be appointed, as in the past, who will have power to arrange all details of the race in case the challenge is accepted.

Mr. Maitland Kearsay, a member of the New York Yacht Club, to whom the challenge was sent, states that the conditions of the challenge are in substance the same as those agreed upon with the New York Yacht Club's committee three years ago.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

New York, October 6.—A report published this morning of a battle between the government forces of Venezuela and the Revolutionists under General Crespo at Los Teques is declared untrue by the Venezuelan consul at this port, General Leopoldo Terrer. The consul says, however, that there was a fight near the little town of Cua and Acimare between the government forces under General Pulido, uncle of President Fulido, and Generals Casado and Vegas, of Crespo's army.

"I received information to that effect this morning," said the consul, "in a telegram from President Pulido. The President's words were: "We met the enemy to-day at Cua and Acumare, and our forces under General Pulido were triumphant under General Pulido were triumphant over Generals Casado and Vegas."
